According to the EAC.gov website:

The Help America Vote Act (HAVA) of 2002 was passed by the United States Congress to make sweeping reforms to the nation's voting process. HAVA addresses improvements to voting systems and voter access that were identified following the 2000 election. HAVA mandates that EAC test and certify voting equipment, maintain the National Voter Registration form and administer a national clearinghouse on elections that includes shared practices, information for voters and other resources to improve elections.

HAVA creates new mandatory minimum standards for states to follow in several key areas of election administration. The law provides funding to help states meet these new standards, replace voting systems and improve election administration. HAVA also established the Election Assistance Commission (EAC) to assist the states regarding HAVA compliance and to distribute HAVA funds to the states. EAC is also charged with creating voting system guidelines and operating the federal government's first voting system certification program. EAC is also responsible for maintaining the National Voter Registration form, conducting research, and administering a national clearinghouse on elections that includes shared practices, information for voters and other resources to improve elections. HAVA requires that the states implement the following new programs and procedures:

- Provisional Voting
- Voting Information
- Updated and Upgraded Voting Equipment
- Statewide Voter Registration Databases
- Voter Identification Procedures
- Administrative Complaint Procedures

According to Title IV of the Help America Vote Act (HAVA), all states are required to provide a uniform and nondiscriminatory administrative process for filing a complaint related to any violation of Title III of HAVA such as denial of or difficulty casting a ballot for a federal election, including access to a polling place, information available in accessible formats, and independent and secret access to the ballot for persons with a full range of disabilities. If you wish to file a complaint, you are encouraged to fill out this complaint form, have it notarized, and submit your complaint to the North Dakota Secretary of State. The Secretary of State has 90 days from the date of submission to determine a complaint, unless you agree to a longer period of time. North Dakota has implemented this provision in N.D.C.C. § 16.1-01-16.
